

Napa Valley Wineries With The Best Eats

True, many wineries offer cheese and bread. But for those looking for something more substantial, here's our list of the Napa Valley wineries with the best eats.

There's been much buzz lately about Kenzo Estate for the beauty of their grounds and the quality of their wine, but they also have a killer lunch option. Lacking a kitchen of their own, Kenzo Estate caters from Thomas Keller's Bouchon in Yountville to accompany their flight of four two-ounce tastings. Takeaway: you'll get to try wine from one of the hottest new wineries and food from a famous Napa restaurant without waiting for a table or cutting a tasting from your list.
